First, I do will and bequeath to my beloved wife Elizabeth all my slaves Viz, Edmund, Ciras, and Fillis during her natural life, also my land on which I now live, one hundred and forty acres of which during her natural life [it is written like this]. Also, all my farming utensils, together with as much of my household and kitchen furniture as she may think proper to keep, for her support and the support of her family. Also as many Hogs, Sheep, Horses, and cattle as she choses to keep. I give to my daughter Kesiah my young Black Horse, three years old, Also ...? furniture and one cow and calf. To my daughter Polly I give one Brown Horse, two years old, also one? bed and its furniture and one cow and calf. Also, after the death of my wife Elizabeth, it is my will that Keziah[*] and Polly shall have Fillis and her increase-equally divided between them.

I give to my son, Elisha, sixty acres of land to include the buildings he now lives in, and the improvement he worked this year.

To my son, William, I give the remainder of the tract I now live on, consisting of one hundred and forty acres, he shall have it after the death of my wife, Elizabeth. I also have a tract of land partly in Henry County and partly in Gallatin County, containing two hundred acres in BEALLs claim, the estate to complete the payment for it, and I do give it to my son George to have and inherit[?] his own. I also give to my son George one Roan Horse and one Sorrel Colt. To William I give one Bay mare, one colt, and one sorrel colt, the property now known as theirs. Also, the hogs and cattle they each claim as theirs and is known as such. I do give and bequeath to my two Sons-in-Laws, Michael SMITH and Stephen SMITH and their wives Sally and Gracy, all my claim on Hickson CAMPBELL-(Thomas BRYAN my agent) provided said SMITHs shall collect the same. I also give to my Gran Children, Jane BARTLETT's heirs, three Dollars each.

Then all my just Debts to be paid, and the remainder of my property to be sold and the proceeds equally divided amongst all my children, Viz, Levi, Kesiah[*] Sally, Gracy, Elisha, George, William & Polly. I do choose Elizabeth, my wife, Levi my Son, and Wharton RANSDELL to be my Executors to see that this Will be executed and complied with according to its letter strickly So[?] speaking.

In Testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand & seal this the 8th day of October, 1824.

Family History: Notes from Mary Evelyn Scott

George Dorsey Scott, married an Irish lass not long over from Ireland, and with their small children, one or two more relatives, stock, a few slaves; put their possessions on a flatboat, and came down the Ohio River from Henry County, Kentucky. They settled in the Western part of Kentucky around Ballard County. This was a few years after their marriage, not easy to pinpoint an exact date. They built a home which still stands in good condition. There has been a few additions to it and it is not in the Scott family now.

In 1856 George Dorsey Scott boarded a boat to return to his home in Henry County, Kentucky to visit his family there. He returned home down river, and got off at a landing some miles from his home. It was December, and the rain had turned to sleet. Communications and travel were so uncertain that his family could not be there to meet him. He walked home in the sleet and snow, and by the time he reached there he was very ill. He died soon after with pneumonia.

As a widow, Margaret raised their children by herself.

Notes for James R. Scott:

James R. Scott (deceased) was born in Henry county, KY, in 1816 and was the son of Levi and Letitia Chilton Scott, natives of VA, who early settled near Campbellsburg, KY. Mr. Scott was a prosperous farmer and a leading man in his community, he was a Free Mason, and a member of the Baptist Church of which he was long an official. July 20, 1863 he married Miss Susan F. Thompson, a native of Shelby County, KY, and daughter of William and Eliza A Webber, who were born in Clark and Shelby Counties, respectively. Two children were born to this union, Levin and Minnie, who reside with their mother at Eminence, KY. Mr. Scott died in July 1878, leaving his widow the 400 acre farm in Henry County, which she still manages. (Kentucky:A History of the State, Battle, Perrin, & Kniffin, 6th ed., 1887, Henry Co.)

Obituary - From newsclipping (exact source unknown)

One by one we cross the river. Death has visited our midst and has robbed the community of one of its most noble women. Mrs. LaMaster, Aunt Fronie as every one knew her, died at her home near town Tuesday afternoon Oct 1st at one o'clock. We feel there is nothing we can say that would add to the beauty of the noble life which she lived during her illness which long and painful she never heard to complain and endured her suffering with christian fortitude and much patience and with resignation to God's will which was inspiring her many friends who visited her. She ws the widow of the late B. J. LaMaster, who died several years ago. Six children, five sons and one daughter survive here. To them the sympathy of the whole community is extended and especially to the daughter, who had latedly been bereft of her husband. Mrs. LaMaster was a good woman. She always had a pleasant word and smile for everyone she came in touch with. She was a devoted member of the Christian church, a kind, loving mother and friend of the poor. The funeral services were held at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rey Roger, after which she was laid to rest beside her husband in the the cemetery here.

'Bid fairwell to your mother, sweet in her rest,

Weary with years, and worn with pain.

Bid her farewell 'till in some happy place.

You shall behold her sweet face again.

'Tis yours to miss her through all your years,

And tender memories of her keep.

Her's in the Lord to rest, for so,

He giveth His loved ones sleep."

Notes for Benjamin J. LaMaster:
From Kentucky Genealogy and Biographies, Vol. VII, page 202

Benjamin Lamaster, a widely known farmer and stock dealer in Henry County, was born in the county near, New Castle, January 10, 1827, and is of French descent. He is the third child of a family of five sons and three daughters, born to Abram and Letitia (Tyler) Lamaster. His father was a native of Henry County, born in 1800, and by occupation was a well-to-do farmer and trader. He was a member of the Christian Church, and died in Henry County in 1845. Mrs. Letitia Lamaster was a native of Henry County, born in 1800, and died in April, 1885.

Subject's paternal grandfather, Joseph Lamaster, came from Virginia in an early day [This is incorrect. His paternal grandfather was James Lamaster who probably came from Charles County, Maryland.], settling in Henry County, where he resided until his death. He took part in the War of 1812, in the command of William Butler. His maternal grandfather, Charles Tyler, was a native of Virginia, came to Kentucky when it was yet a part of the Virginia Colony, and lived in Boonesboro for some time. He was an active part of the War of 1812 and participated in the battle of Tippecanoe, Ind., and Fort Moultrie, in the command of William O. Butler of Kentucky.

The early life of our subject was passed on the farm, and his education was received in the common schools of Henry County. He was married January 15, 1852, to Sophronia Scott, daughter of William Scott, on of Kentucky's early pioneers. Five sons and one daughter were born to this union: Walter, a graduate of Valparaiso, Ind., and of the Kentucky School of Medicine; John T., a graduate of Eminence, and now principal of a graded school in Boone County; Zachary H., a graduate of Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky; Benjamin I., student of the Columbia University, Boone County, Mo., and Mattie. Mr. Lamaster politically is a Democrat, as is a member of the Christian Church Campbellsburg. He has a farm of 284 acres on the New Castle and Carrollton Turnpike.

Following is a story by Nancy Bartlett Tandy LaMaster, husband of Fowler Orem LaMaster, related to me my Mary LaMaster, wife of Henry Carroll LaMaster. It was written by Bartlett in March 1985 when she was 89 years old.

Orem's grandfather, whose name was Ben, was in love with a girl named Sophronia Scott. Her father would not allow him to court her but one day when her parents were away he rode by on a mule and Sophronia was stirring lard in the yard. The parents were not at home so Ben got off his mule and persuaded Sophronia to run off with him and get married. She was 15 or 16 at the time [she was actually 20 when they married in 1852. See also the story below which is slightly different.]. She got on the mule with him and they rode to New Castle, the county seat of Henry Co. and they got a license and had the County Judge marry them. They went to housekeeping with only a copper kettle and a mule to start with. They rented a little log house near Ben's parents. Orem's father often said that his grandmother was a beautiful person with auburn hair and brown eyes. They eventually owned the family farm. They were staunch members of the Campbellsburg Christian Church. Their children were Mattie, Zack, John T., Benjamin and Levi. After though of Bartlett LaMaster: When I listed the children of Ben, Sr. and Sophronia, I forgot about Dr. Walter LaMaster who lived and practiced medicine in Columbia. He had a reputation of being a very fine doctor and I think he looked like most LaMasters, dark skin and brown eyes, all typically French.

This was a story contained in the papers of Nancy Bartlett Tandy LaMaster. It was probably written by either Nancy or Orem.

Benjamin LaMaster was a Southern sympathizer and was carrying mail to the Southern Army during the Civil War. The Union Army did not find out about the mail but he was turned in by his neighbor, Mr. Turner, and accused of trading horses for the Confederates. This was not true but he was put in jail and was supposed to be shot by a firing squad of Yankees. However, there were seven others and they drew for a blank. Benjamin drew the blank so he was released.

A bunch of Yankee bushwackers would often stop at the home place for Sophronia Scott LaMaster to cook for them. One day when they were snooping one of them fell into an old root cellar, which was in the yard, and it caved in on him. He was lost for sometime. When they heard his screams he had to be dug out.

According to the History of Henry County, Kentucky, by Maude Johnson Drane, the First Christian Church of Campbellsburg, built 1872, was financed almost entirely by Messrs. Jimmie Campbell, Tony Combs, Pryor Combs and Ben LaMaster.

Marriage Notes for Sophronia Scott and Benjamin LaMaster:

The story goes that Benjamin LaMaster and Sophronia Scott ran off to Gollipolis, Ohio to get married. She was stirring lard when he came by on a mule and asked her to go with him which she did. She was only sixteen. [She was actually 20 years old]. They were gone for five days. This story may be substantially true. However, there is a record of Benjamin and Sophronia's marriage in Henry Co., KY in 1852. No record has been found in Ohio. They probably got married in Henry Co. and then ran off to Ohio.

Notes for George Thomas Scott:

George Thomas Scott was two years old in 1843, when the family settled in Ballard county. He ran away from home at the age of fifteen, with a Shelby boy of about the same age. My guess is that he caught a steamboat and worked his way down river. Any way he enlisted in the Confederate Army, August of 1861. The boys gave their ages as older than it was, and from this time, Tobe's age was listed as older than he was, even on his tombstone. Place of enlistment was Memphis, Tennessee, August 1861. He was taken prisoner of war in 1864/1866 at the battle of Harrisburg, Mississippi. I believe him to be exchanged, and finished out the war. There was one lasting war wound, a gunshot in one leg that gave him serious trouble in his last days.

After the war, in western Kentucky, a land ravaged by feeding both their own Confederate Troups, as well as the Yankee soldiers, a returned soldier with nothing of his own, probably just sis well to exist

Dr. W. L. LaMaster

Former Henry County Man Dies in Missouri - A Successful And Honored Physician

Tribune, Columbia, MO, March 24.

Dr. W. L. LaMaster died at his home in Ashland, MO last night after an illness of three months. The cause of his death was pneumonia, which afterwards developed into lung trouble. The funeral took place this afternoon at Salem church. Rev. G. W. Hatcher, pastor of Salem, conducted the services and the Masons and the Odd Fellows, of both of which orders deceased was an honored member, had charge of the services at the grave. The large concourse of people, a number of whom went from Columbia and vicinity, indicated the high esteem in which Dr. LaMaster was held by those who knew him.

Dr. LaMaster was a native of Kentucky, but he moved to Boone County and located at Ashland 32 years ago. Here he practiced his profession until his recent illness and built up a wide and lucrative business. He was never a strong man, and during his many years as a practitioner has undergone many serious spells of sickness due to exposure and activity. No man in Ashland and vicinity was more highly esteemed by the people generally and no physician had higher ideals or was held in higher regard by the members thereof than was Dr. LaMaster. He was practically in the prime of life, being only 59 years of age, and his untimely death is a source of sorrow to all who had the privilege of knowing this fine gentleman. Deceased is survived by his wife and one one, Palmer LaMaster.

Walter owned a lovely brick home and five acres in Ashland, Missouri. He did not own a car. He owned a number of horses that he used as transportation to see his patients. He died of pneumonia. It is rumored that he visited a patient, who was not ill and Dr. LaMaster gave her some bicarbonate of soda. He was out in the rain and sleet and caught cold and died.

Dr. LaMaster Dead

Well Known Physician and Citizen

Passed Away at 7 O'clock

Tuesday Night

Dr. Walter L. LaMaster, 59 years old, well known physician and citizen, died at his home in Ashland at 7 p. m., Tuesday, March 23, 1915. The cause of death was pneumonia, which developed into lung trouble. Deceased was a native of Campbellsburg, Ky. He graduated in 1883 from the famous medical school in Louisville. Shortly after, a young physician, he came to Ashland with the late Dr. Abner Martin in the practice of medicine.

After establishing himself in the practice of his profession, he returned to Kentucky, and in November 1883 he was married to the sweetheart of his youth, Miss Alice Jones, who, with one son, Palmer, survives him.

Dr. LaMaster was a successful physician and enjoyed a large practice. He was loved and esteemed by a wide circle of friends. This was demonstrated by the large attendance at the funeral and the many beautiful floral offerings. When his death was announced there were genuine expressions of sorrow and regret.

The funeral, conducted by Rev. G. W. Hatcher, took place at New Salem at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. The discourse was peculiarly appropriate. At its close, the hundreds of people present were given the privilege of looking upon the familiar features for the last time.

The Mason and Odd Fellow lodges, both of which deceased was an honored member, had charge of the exercises at the grave.

Marriage Notes for William Hill and Bernice Harlan:

Henry County Local article, Henry County, Kentucky.

June 13, 1919

Weldon and Marshall Hill, who have been keeping "bach" on their farm 2-1/2 miles West of New Castle are no longer living in a womanless home. Tuesday morning when A. Sid Morgan and other neighbors of the Hill brothers look toward their home they were surprised to see a young lady on the premises stirring hither and thither and looking the mistress of all she surveyed. It developed that Weldon Hill, the elder of the two boys, had been married the evening before at 8 o'clock in La Grange without pomp and unusual ceremony, and some time between the two days they had rounded in at the Hill homestead and were already set up for business and each performing his or her part properly in their new and sacred relation.

The bride is none other than Miss Bernice Harlan, daughter of those clever persons, Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Harlan of La Grange former residents of New Castle Kentucky. The bride is a business like and sensible girl, who for five years has been associated with Ballard Brothers in a clerical capacity. She is a girl of comeliness and personal worth, and her husband should be overwhelmed with congratulations by reason of his good fortune in making good his claim upon her heart.

The Hill brothers are clever boys. They have a nice new home nearing completion with all arrangements nearly completed for the incoming governess. Why wait, thought Weldon, she might as well come in now and have the satisfaction of ordering the details. So the wedding was speeded up some. The manner in which the whole transaction was effectuated evidences the good common sense of the parties. The groom is a son of Pat Hill former clerk of Henry County now deceased. [This is incorrect. William Weldon Hill's father was Horace William Hill.] His mother if the wife of J. B. Pyles of La Grange.

Oldham Era, La Grange Kentucky, article.
June 13, 1919

Miss Bernice Harlan and Mr. Weldon Hill were married Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harlan. The house was decorated in roses, sweet peas, ferns and honey suckles. Miss Ruby Starks was maid of honor, and was dressed in a handsome blue chiffon, carrying a bunch of sweet peas. The bride wore a wistaria greogette crepe over crepe de chine. Mr. Jesse Harlan was groomsman. It was a pretty home wedding, none but the immediate family being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Frank Richardson, of the Methodist Church. The bridal couple left immediately after the ceremony for their home near Smithfield. Both the young people are favorites here and received many handsome, also useful presents of silverware, furniture, cut glass, household linens, etc.

J. P. LaMaster, 1892-1971

Joseph Paul LaMaster, 79, Head Emeritus of the Department of Dairy Science, Clemson University, passed away May 2, 1971. He retired 1957. A native of Campbellsburg, Kentucky, he attended the State's University where he received the B.S. degree in 1913 and M.S. in 1928.

An appointment to the position of bacteriologist for the Elmendorf Farm, located in Lexington, Kentucky, was accepted upon graduation from the University. For five years he served in dairy extension in Mississippi and Georgia, and then as dairy field representative of the United States Department of Agriculture in the Southern states. He became extension dairy specialist with the South Carolina Extension Service in January 1920. On October 1, 1920 he was named head of the Clemson College Dairy Department and served in that position for 37 years.

He was a leader in dairy cattle breeding studies and nutrition and was the first chairman of the regional technical committee on breeding better dairy cattle in the South. He was a director of various cattle clubs in the state and the South Carolina Dairy Association. Through his efforts the Brown Swiss breed was introduced in South Carolina in 1943.

He helped develop Clemson Blue cheese by the South Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station. He developed the electric calf dehorner now commonly used. His ability as a judge of dairy cattle was recognized officially and he judged in many shows.

Professor LaMaster served as chairman of the southern division of the American Dairy Science Association in 1925, secretary in 1927, and was active on many committees through the years. In 1954 he received the Honors Award from the Association. He was a member of the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturers' Association. The U.S. Secretary of Agriculture named him as a member of the nationwide Dairy Industry Work Conference in Washington in 1953. He also served on the executive committee of the Southern Pasture and Forage Crop Improvement Conference in the southern states.

After retirement from Clemson he received a two-year assignment with the International Cooperation Administration under the auspices of the U.S. Department of State as livestock advisor in Brazil. Other foreign service included a 1919 assignment as representative of the French government in charge of a Holstein shipment at sea, and in 1953 the government of Cuba invited him to judge its dairy cattle livestock exposition.

Professor LaMaster was a member of the American Dairy Science Association, American Society of Animal Science, Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, A Fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Zeta, Alpha Tau Omega and Lamp and Cross (honorary scholastic society). He is listed in American Men of Science.

Obituary of Orem LaMaster, Herald-Leader, Lexington, KY, Sept 2, 1964

Eminence - Orem LaMaster, 69, Eminence, died Monday in King's Daughters' Hospital, Shelbyville, after an illness of several months. A native of Campbellsburg, he was a member of the Eminence Christian Church and was employed by the Farmers' Home Administration.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Bartlett Tandy LaMaster; three daughters, Mrs. Roy Hixson, Nashville, Tenn; Mrs. John Barnett, Bagdad; and Mrs. Coburn Gayle, Frankfort; a brother J. P. LaMaster, Clemson, SC and eight grandchildren.

Services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Eminence Christian Church. Burial will be in the Campbellsburg Cemetery. Bearers will be D. R. Ellis, Herbert Allen, Jr., Arnett LaMaster, Jr., Carl B. Puckett, Stephen Drane and Ed Drane. Honorary bearers will be William Kenny, Sterling Pearce, Raymond Lickert, Marion Brown, Clint Newman, Horace Dale, R. C. Yantis, J. W. Dunavent, Shirley Long and Carney Hollowell. The body is at the Ricketts Funeral Home, Eminence.

The following was written by Nancy Bartlett Tandy LaMaster

Orem LaMaster was the son of Benjamin Ivy LaMaster and Lilly Campbell LaMaster. He was born Feb. 19, 1895 to on a farm near Campbellsburg and attended Mr. Percy's private high school and graduated at age 17. He received his B.S. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1917 with an average grade of 98. He belonged to ATO social fraternity, Lamp & Cross and Alpha Zeta honorary fraternities.

On April 9, 1919, he married Nancy Bartlett Tandy at the home of her parents on 7th Street, Carrollton, Kentucky. They lived the early years of their married married in Eminence, Kentucky where Orem operated a 360-acre farm midway between Eminence, Kentucky and New Castle, Kentucky. He was engaged in farming with a large herd of Jersey cows, milking approximately 75 cows twice daily. Some of the cows when sold at auction brought $350 - $400, which was considered a good price at the time

Their oldest daughter, Mary Bennett LaMaster was born at their home in Eminence, Kentucky. Their second daughter, Nancy Adelia LaMaster was born at the LaMaster home in Campbellsburg. After leaving the dairy farm Orem taught school in Bedford, Kentucky. He taught agriculture under this Smith - Hughes Act for three years and afterward was county agent for Trimble Co., Kentucky. He worked in that capacity until January 1, 1936, when the Director of the Experiment Station transferred him to Fleming Co. where he worked there for six years.

There youngest daughter, Jean Orem LaMaster was at the home of her parents at Flemingsburg, Kentucky. In February, 1942 they moved to Lexington, Kentucky and lived their 15 years. Orem worked for the federal government with the Farmer's Home Administration. For four years he was located at Leitchfield, Kentucky. He was District Supervisor for FHA. Because of ill health he retired Aug. 1, 1959 and he and his wife made Eminence, Kentucky their home where he died Aug. 31, 1964. He is buried in the Campbellsburg Cemetery.
