Harlan Family

There are lots of Harlan descendants that are not included in this report. The main focus of this report are the descendants of Sarah Harlan (a great granddaughter of George Harlan) and Jesse Harlan (a great grandson of Michael Harlan). Sarah and Jesse, who were second cousins, married in The Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Wilmington, Delaware in 1764. The church would have been Swedish Luthern at the time Sarah and Jesse got married. It became Episcopalian in the 1790s. The report also contains some descendants of Thomas Harland who is the third brother who stayed behind in Ireland.

Sarah was the daughter of John Harlan and Sarah Wickersham, the granddaughter of George Harlan and Mary Baily and the great granddaughter of Michael Harlan and Dinah Dixon. Jesse was the son of Joseph Harlan and Edith Pyle, the grandson of Joshua Harlan and Mary Heald and the great grandson of George Harlan and Elizabeth Duck.

Thomas Harland, brother of George and Michael, married first Katherine Bullock and second Alice Foster. Some of Thomas descendants migrated to America, but Thomas stayed behind in Ireland.

Descendants of James Harland

Generation 1

1. JAMES¹ HARLAND was born about 1625 in Bishoprick, Durham, England.

Notes for James Harland:

The records of this man and his children are in the monastery in Gald, England.

From "History & Genealogy of the Harlan Family," page 1.

"James Harland, Yeoman and member of the Episcopal Church, was b. about the year 1625 in the "Bishoprick, nigh Durham, England," and is the earliest paternal ancestor known to the family in America bearing the name Harlan. He lived and d. an Englishman, and was bur. upon English soil, no one to-day knows where. Tradition says that the name of his father was William." "That James Harland was married according to the usages of the Established Church there is no doubt. That his children were baptized and recorded therein is fully established by the fact that the earliest record we have of his son, George, is that he was "Baptised at the Monastery Monkwearmouth* in Oald England." We have no record giving the name of the wife and mother. So far as is known, James Harland was the father of three sons:"

* " Monkwearmouth Monastery was founded by Benedict Biscop in the year A.D. 672. It is situated in a town of the same name in the east division of Chester, County Durham, and one-half mile north of Sunderland. It receives its name from its location near the mouth of the river Wear. Burned and plundered time and again, only the tower and some detached parts of the church remain of the once celebrated monastery. In 1790 the parish registers, with the exception of some of the late records, were destroyed by fire, and it is probable that information of untold value perished in the flames."

James Harland had the following children:

brothers and others he crossed over into Ireland and located in the Parish of Donnahlong, County Down. It is supposed that he remained there during life, and that he was buried in the burying grounds at Lurgan Meeting House, County Armagh. He m. 2, 7, 1680, by ceremony of Friends at Lurgan Meeting, held then "at the house of Francis Robson," in the Parish of Segoe, County Armagh, Katherine Bullock (Friend), b.---, d. 3 Mo. 1690, County Down, a dau. of George Bullock, of the Parish of Donnahlong. They were the parents of two sons, James and Thomas and one dau., Abigail." "We find the names of George Harland, Alphonsus Kirk, etc., among the signers to Thomas Harland's first marriage certificate, but it seems that this brother did not venture to cast his lot in the new world. So far as we can learn he remained in Ireland; we find his descendants, some fifty years later, crossing into Pennsylvania, and settling in Chester County.

Thomas Harland and Katherine Bullock had the following children:

- i. ANANIAS³ HARLAND (son of Thomas Harland and Katherine Bullock) was born on 19 Apr 1682 in County Armagh, Ireland. He died on 02 Sep 1764 in Pennsylvania. He married an unknown spouse on 08 Feb 1688 in Cumberland Co., England.

- vi. THOMAS HARLAND (son of Thomas Harland and Alice Foster) was born on 04 May 1705 in County Armagh, Ireland.
 - vii. ABIGAIL HARLAND (daughter of Thomas Harland and Alice Foster) was born on 24 Feb 1708.
3. GEORGE² HARLAN (James¹ Harland) was born on 11 Mar 1650 in Bishoprick, Durham, England. He died in Jul 1714 in Chadds Ford, Delaware Co., Pennsylvania. He married Elizabeth Duck (daughter of Ezekiel Duck and Hannah Hoope) on 17 Nov 1678 in Shankill, County Ardmagh, Ulster Province, Northern Ireland (Lurgan Monthly Meeting). She was born on 05 May 1660 in Lurgan, Northern Ireland.

Notes for George Harlan:

George Harlan, the eldest of two sons of James Harlan to settle at William Penn's Province of Pennsylvania, b. at Bishoprick, County Durham in far northeast England. He was baptized the 11th day of the 1st mo. 1650 [Mar. 11, 1650/1 in the modern calendar (Kennett, Chester County, Penn. Friends MM Record)] at the Monastery of Monkwearmouth within the City of Sunderland, county Durham. After reaching majority age George relocated to Northern Ireland where he became a member of the Society of Friends, or Quakers.

On the 27th day of the 9th mo. (Nov.), 1678 at the Lurgan Monthly Meeting (hereafter "MM") of Friends at the Parish of Shankill, County Ardmagh, Ulster Province, Northern Ireland, George Harlan m. Elizabeth Duck, daughter of Ezekiel Duck and Hannah Hoope, b. May 5, 1660 at Lurgan. By 1687, George Harlan and wife Elizabeth relocated from Northern Ireland to near Centreville in what was then one of the three lower counties of Penn's Pennsylvania, now in New Castle County, Delaware. At or near Centreville south of the modern Delaware-Pennsylvania border is where the rest of the children were born.

In 1695 George Harlan was one of Penn's governors of the "lower counties" in present-day Delaware and after moving north along Brandywine Creek to south of present-day Chadds Fork in present-day Delaware County, PA, in 1712 George was elected a member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

It is unknown when wife Elizabeth died, but some would claim it was on Nov. 12, 1712. Unfortunately, no Friends MM record contains the recorded date of Elizabeth and husband George's death. George died testate and a widower calling himself in his will "of Brandywine Creek in the Township of Kennett & County of Chester in the Province of Pennsylvania," which today is in the southern portion of Chadds Ford Township, Delaware County, Penn. He died between Apr. 21, 1714 (the date of his will) and Oct 2, 1714 (the date of probate). Some claim George d. on July 5, 1714, but again no record can be found stating his actual date of death. Alpheus Harlan in his History and Genealogy of the Harlan Family claims only that George died in the "Fifth Month" (July) of 1714. Family records used by Alpheus Harlan state George and Elizabeth were buried at "the new burying grounds on Alphonsus Kirk's land, which was afterwards, and is yet today, the Center Meeting Burying Grounds" in Centreville, New Castle County, Delaware.[*2]

George Harlan and Elizabeth Duck had nine children, the first four born at the Parish of Donnahlong in County Down, Ulster Province, Northern Ireland, and the rest at present-day New Castle County, DE after arrival from Ireland. All

Notes for Michael Harland:

Michael and his brother George were yeoman farmers typically looking for better land. They were, or became Quakers and migrated to northern Ireland, presumably as part of the Anglo-Scottish "colonization" of that troubled area begun by Oliver Cromwell. They moved to the New World after George's marriage and settled in Pennsylvania in Chester Co. about 1687. (John Marshall Harlan, by LP Beth)

Michael, a "yeoman, Friend", was born "Nigh Durham, in Bishoprick, England, about the year 1660," and in early life emigrated with his brothers into Ireland and settled with them in the County of Down. Here he remained until 1687, when he accompanied his brother George to America. "And ye beginning of ye yeare 1690," Michael Harlan m. Dinah Dixon, "ye Daughter of Henry Dixon and settled first Neer ye Senter Meeting House." They afterward removed into London Grove Twp., where Michael died the "Fourth Month" (June), 1729, and was bur. in Friends' Buring Grounds. His wife doubtless buried there also." Possibly as a result of the Great Awakening in the 1740s, some wandering revivalist converted them to Presbyterianism. (John Marshall Harlan, by LP Beth).

MAJOR SILAS HARLAN

by John R. Harlan, Augusta, GA

According to Alpheus H. Harlan's book, "In the month of May, 1774, James Harlan, then aged 19 years, and his brother Silas, two years his senior, joined a company of adventurers from Virginia and Pennsylvania, then being raised by Captain James Harrod. They embarked in periouges, or canoes, on the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers, and thence to the mouth of the Kentucky River, which they ascended to the mouth of a creek, called "Landing Run", now Oregon in the lower end of the present county of Mercer, east of the village of Salvisa; thence across to Salt River at "McAfees Station", and up that river to Fountain Blue, and to the place where Harrodsburg now stands," which was the first permanent white settlement in Kentucky.

After the Revolutionary War began in 1775, Indians friendly to the British made repeated attacks on the settlers. This prompted the construction of forts or stockades called stations along the frontier to which the settlers could go for protection when the Indians were on the warpath. "About the year 1778, assisted by his brother, James, Silas built a stockade fort on the Salt River, 7 miles upstream above the present town of Harrodsburg which was called "Harlan's Station". During this period many Virginians moved into the Kentucky region which had become a County of Virginia in 1776.

As a part of the Revolutionary War strategy, England hoped to destroy the Kentucky forts and control all the region west of the Allegheny Mountains. They supplied the Indians with arms to make war on the pioneers. These activities prompted General George Rogers Clark to capture forts in 1779 in the so-called Illinois Campaign during which Silas Harlan commanded the spies, or scouts as they would be referred to eventually.

During the winter and spring of 1782, the Indian attacks began to increase and three stations were under siege for a few days resulting in several wounded and dead. After the Indians departure, Colonel Todd, Colonel Trigg, Major Silas Harlan and Colonel Daniel Boone assembled one hundred and seventy-six well armed men and pursued the Indians after these attacks. This force caught up with the Indians at a bend in the Licking River about forty-three miles northeast of Lexington. After the forces crossed the river, a fierce battle ensued and being outnumbered, they were obliged to retreat back across the river with a loss of sixty killed and seven taken prisoner. Among those killed were Colonels Todd and Trigg, Major Silas Harlan, and Daniel Boone's second son. After being reinforced by Colonel Logan, they returned to the scene of the battle and buried the dead. Accordingly, Silas Harlan was buried on the south side of the Licking River at the Blue Licks, so named for a fine salt spring.

Silas Harlan was descended from George, James and George and was never married. "In stature he was about 6 feet 2 inches tall; of fine personal appearance, and when he was killed, was 29 years old. He was regarded as a brave, generous and active man." (Collins "History of Kentucky" from A. H. Harlan's "The Harlan Family")

Jesse Harlan (son of John Harlan and Sarah Wickersham) on 10 Sep 1764 in Wilmington, New Castle Co., Delaware (The Holy Trinity Episcopal Church). He was born in 1743 in Bradford, Chester Co., Pennsylvania. He died after 1785 in Albemarle Co., Virginia.

Notes for Sarah Harlan:

Jesse Harlan, a son of John and grandson of George, married his third cousin, Sarah Harlan, a daughter of Joseph and a granddaughter of Joshua. Jesse was born about 1743, in Bradford Township, Chester, Pennsylvania. Sarah was born July 25, 1748 in Kennet Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

After the birth of their children they moved to Maryland and then onward to Albemarle County, Virginia, where they both died and were buried. Jesse and Sarah were married September 10, 1764 in an Episcopal ceremony at Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church, Wilmington, Delaware. It is by this marriage that later descendants are descendent from both George and Michael Harlan. Jesse and Sarah had five children, including including Joseph and Jesse, who are both in the direct line of ancestors as a result of the marriage of first cousins once removed - Thomas Samuel Harlan, son of James White Harlan, grandson of Joseph Harlan, and great grandson of Jesse and Sarah, and Mary Fleming Harlan, daughter of Jesse and granddaughter of Jesse and Sarah Harlan.

Notes for Jesse Harlan:

Jesse and Sarah imigrated from Pennsylvania to Maryland after the birth of their children and then they moved on to Albemarle Co., Virginia.

The house where Jesse was born was built about 1725 by his grandfather George. It was enlarged at least once, perhaps when John inherited it when he became 21 (1737) (or more likely, perhaps, when he married in 1740.). It was inhabited by the Harlan family until 1950 when Annie Harlan died. The house title descended through the family of Joel Harlan, the brother of John. [Source: Email message from Elgene A. Notes for Jesse Harlan:

Jesse and Sarah immigrated from Pennsylvania to Maryland after the birth of their children and then they moved on to Albemarle Co., Virginia.

The house where Jesse was born was built about 1725 by his grandfather George. It was enlarged at least once, perhaps when John inherited it when he became 21 (1737) (or more likely, perhaps, when he married in 1740.). It was inhabited by the Harlan family until 1950 when Annie Harlan died. The house title descended through the family of Joel Harlan, the brother of John. [Source: Email message from Elgene A. Smith]

Jesse Harlan, a son of John and grandson of George, married his third cousin, Sarah Harlan, a daughter of Joseph and a granddaughter of Joshua. Jesse was born about 1743, in Bradford Township, Chester, Pennsylvania. Sarah was born July 25, 1748 in Kennet Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

After the birth of their children they moved to Maryland and then onward to Albemarle County, Virginia, where they both died and were buried. Jesse and Sarah were married September 10, 1764 in an Episcopal ceremony at Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church, Wilmington, Delaware. It is by this marriage that later descendants are descendent from both George and Michael Harlan. Jesse and Sarah had five children, including including Joseph and Jesse, who are both in the direct line of ancestors as a result of the marriage of first cousins once removed - Thomas Samuel Harlan, son of James White Harlan, grandson of Joseph Harlan, and great grandson of Jesse and Sarah, and Mary Fleming Harlan, daughter of Jesse and granddaughter of Jesse and Sarah Harlan.

Notes for Josiah Harlan:

Josiah Harlan, Prince of Ghor (June 12, 1799 - 1871) was an American adventurer, best known for travelling to Afghanistan and Punjab with the intention of being made king. While there, he became involved in local politics and factional military actions, eventually winning the title Prince of Ghor in perpetuity for himself and his descendants in exchange for military aid. Rudyard Kipling's story The Man Who Would Be King is believed to be based on Harlan.

Harlan's childhood

Josiah Harlan was born in Newlin Township in Chester County, Pennsylvania. His parents, Sarah Hinchman and Joshua Harlan,[1] were Quakers, and Josiah and his nine siblings were raised in a strict and pious home. His father Joshua was a merchant broker in Philadelphia and several of his sons would later enter the merchant business.

Losing his mother at the age of thirteen, Josiah delved into reading. A contemporary records that Harlan, at the age of fifteen, amused himself with reading medical books and the biographies of Plutarch, as well as the inspired Prophets. He read Latin and Greek, while speaking fluent French. He also developed a passion for botany that would last his entire life. He also studied Greek and Roman history, particularly taken by stories of Alexander the Great.

Early travels

In 1820, Harlan embarked on his first travels. His father secured him job as supercargo on a merchant ship bound for the East, sailing to Calcutta, Canton and back. Returning from this first trip and preparing for the next, he fell in love. It was arranged that they were engaged and to be married when he returned. However, in Calcutta he received notice that his fiancée had broken the engagement and already married another.

Broken by this news, Harlan vowed never to return to America, instead seeking adventure in the East. In July 1824, without any formal education, he enlisted as a surgeon with the British East India Company. The Company was about to enter a war in Burma, and was in need for qualified surgeons. Relying on his self-studies and some practice while at sea, Harlan presented himself to the medical board for examination and was appointed as surgeon to the Calcutta general hospital. From January 1825 he served with the army in Burma, until he was injured or became ill.

Meanwhile, the Treaty of Yandaboo in 1826 ended hostilities. Once recuperated, Harlan was posted to Karnal, north of Delhi, where he soon grew weary with taking orders from The Company. In the summer of 1826, he left their service. As a civilian, he was granted a permit to stay in India by the Governor General Lord Amherst.

Into Afghanistan

After a stay in Simla, Harlan came to Ludhiana, a border outpost of the British on the Sutlej river which formed the border between the Punjab and British India at the time. He had decided to enter the service of Ranjit Singh, the Maharaja of Punjab. Here, while awaiting an answer on his request to enter Punjab, he met the exiled Afghan ruler Shuja Shah and eventually entered his service. With financial support from the exiled monarch, Harlan travelled along the Indus and into Afghanistan and to Peshawar, then Kabul. Here he met the man who he had come to depose, Dost Mohammad Khan.

In Peshawar, Harlan had met the nawab Jubber Khan, a brother of Dost Mohammad Khan. Jabber Khan was important as a possible rival of Dost Mohammad, and thus a possible ally to Shuja Shah. While staying with Jubber Khan, Harlan evaluated the situation and realised that Dost Mohammad's position was too strong, and that influence from outside Afghanistan was needed. He decided to seek his luck in Punjab.

In the service of Ranjit Singh

Harlan came to Lahore, the capital of Punjab, in 1829. He sought out the French general Jean-François Allard, who introduced him to the Maharaja. Harlan was offered a military position but declined, looking for something more lucrative. This, he eventually found: After lingering at the court for some time he was offered the position of Governor of Gujrat District, a position he accepted. Before giving him this position, however, the Maharaja decided to test Harlan.

In December 1829, he was instated as Governor of Nurpur and Jasrota, described by Harlan himself as two districts then newly subjugated by the King in Lahore, located on the skirt of the Himalah mountains. These districts had been seized by their rajah in 1816 and were fairly wealthy at the time Harlan arrived. Little, if anything, is known of Harlan's tenure here, but he must have fared well. In May 1832 he was transferred to Gujarat. In Gujarat, Harlan was visited soon after his instatement by Henry Lawrence who later described him as a man of considerable ability, great courage and enterprise, and judging by appearance, well cut out for partisan work.

While appointing a European governor was rare, Harlan was certainly not the only one. His colleague Paolo Di Avitabile was made governor of Wazirabad, and Jean-Baptiste Ventura was made governor of Dera Ghazi Khan in 1831. Harlan was also in turn followed in his position in Gujarat by an Englishman named Holmes.

Back to Afghanistan

Prince of Ghor

In 1838, Harlan set off on a punitive expedition against the Uzbeks slave trader and warlord Murad Beg. He had multiple reasons for doing this: he wanted to help Dost Mohammad assert his authority outside of Kabul; he had a deep-seated opposition to slavery; and he wanted to demonstrate that a modern army could successfully cross the Hindu Kush. Taking a force of approximately 1400 cavalry, 1100 infantry, 1500 support personnel and camp followers, 2000 horses, 400 camels and one elephant, Harlan thought of himself as a modern-day Alexander the Great. He was accompanied by a younger son and a secretary of Dost Mohammad.

After an arduous journey (which included an American flag raising ceremony at the top of the Indian Caucasus), Harlan reinforced his army with local Hazaras, most of whom lived in fear of the slave traders. His first major military engagement was a short siege at the Citadel of Saighan, controlled by a Tajik slave-trader. Harlan's artillery made short work of the fortress. As a result of this performance, local powers clamored to become Harlan's friends.

One of the most powerful and ambitious local rulers was Mohammad Reffee Beg, a prince of Ghor, an area in the western part of what is now the country of Afghanistan. He and his retinue feasted for ten days with Harlan's force, during which time they observed the remarkable discipline and organization of the modern army. They invited the American back to Reffee's mountain stronghold. Harlan was amazed by the working feudal system and the gender equality he observed. At the end of Harlan's visit, the two came to an agreement. Harlan and his heirs would be the Prince of Ghor in perpetuity, with Reffee as his vizier. In return, Harlan would raise and train an army with the ultimate goal of solidifying and expanding Ghor's power.

Homeward bound

After leaving Afghanistan, Harlan spent some time in Russia. A woman he knew in England sent letters to Russian nobility in which she claimed that Harlan was an experienced administrator who could help the Russian peasantry better itself. Though he was well-liked by Russia's society women, Harlan made no important government contacts and soon decided to go back to America.

Once he returned to America, Harlan was feted as a national hero. He skillfully played the press, telling them not to dwell on his royal title, as he "looks upon kingdoms and principalities as of frivolous import, when set in opposition to the honourable and estimable title of American citizen".[2] His glory quickly faded after the publication of A Memoir of India and Afghanistan- With observations upon the present critical state and future prospects of those Countries. Harlan attacked his old British enemies from Afghanistan and called the British imperial system despicable. Most alarmingly, he wrote about the ease with which Russia could, if it so chose, attack and seriously harm the British Empire.

Harlan was denounced in Britain, although, as one historian has observed, his book was "officially discredited, but secretly read, under the table, by historians and British strategists".[3] The American press did not pan him, but the controversy insured that he would never publish another book.

With his funds dwindling, Harlan began taking on new tasks. He began lobbying the American government to import camels to settle the West. His real hope was that they would order their camels from Afghanistan and send him there as purchasing agent. Harlan convinced the government that camels would be a worthy investment (Secretary of War Jefferson Davis was particularly interested), but it was decided that it would be cheaper to import them from Africa than from Afghanistan.

Harlan next decided that he would convince the government to buy Afghan grapes. He spent two years working on this venture, but the coming of the American Civil War prevented this. Harlan then proposed to raise a regiment.

Notes for James Harlan:

Increased prosperity enabled James to give up farming. He had what he described as "a good English education embracing mathematics." He went on,, "I was intended for mercantile pursuits, and was a clerk in a Dry Goods Store from 1817 to 1821. I then commenced the study of law under the direction of the late Judge John Green and was admitted to the bar in 1823." His practice became so flourishing and its demands so confining that he had to become a townsman. After practicing in and around Harrodsburg for some years, he became a commonwealth attorney and then a Whig member of congress for two terms (1835-39). It was during this period, about 1821, that he married and established his family. His bride was the daughter of Richard Davenport, another Kentucky pioneer who came from Spottsylvania, Virginia. From John Marshall Harlan, By LP Beth.

JAMES HARLAN, of Frankfort, was born in Mercer county, Kentucky, June 22, 1800, and died in Frankfort, February 18, 1863. After acquiring a good English education he engaged in mercantile pursuits until reaching manhood, when he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1823. In 1829 he was appointed commonwealth's attorney, holding the office four years. In 1835 he was elected to the lower house of congress, was re-elected in 1837 and during the latter session was chairman of the committee for investigating defalcations. From 1840 until 1844 he served as secretary of the state of Kentucky under Governor Letcher, and in 1845 was elected to represent his district in the state legislature, while in 1850 he was elected attorney-general of Kentucky and again in 1855, holding office until 1859; and was United States district attorney for Kentucky from 1861 to the date of his death. He was a lawyer of great ability and was one of the most worthy and successful members of his profession in the state. One of his sons, James Harlan, became a judge of the circuit court at Louisville, and another, John Marshall Harlan, associate justice of the United States supreme court.

John Marshall Harlan (June 1, 1833 - October 14, 1911) was an American lawyer and politician who served as an associate justice on the U.S. Supreme Court. He is often called "The Great Dissenter" due to his many dissents in cases that restricted civil liberties, including the Civil Rights Cases and Plessy v. Ferguson. His grandson John Marshall Harlan II was also a Supreme Court justice.

Born into a prominent, slave-holding family in Frankfort, Kentucky, Harlan experienced a quick rise to political prominence. When the American Civil War broke out, Harlan strongly supported the Union and recruited the 10th Kentucky Infantry. Despite his opposition to the Emancipation Proclamation, he served in the war until 1863, when he won election as Attorney General of Kentucky. Harlan lost his re-election bid in 1867 and joined the Republican Party in the following year, quickly emerging as the leader of the Kentucky Republican Party. After the 1876 presidential election, newly-inaugurated President Rutherford B. Hayes appointed Harlan to the Supreme Court.

Harlan's jurisprudence was marked by his life-long belief in a strong national government, his sympathy for the economically disadvantaged, and his view that the Reconstruction Amendments had fundamentally transformed the relationship between the federal government and the state governments. He dissented in both the Civil Rights Cases (1883) and Plessy v. Ferguson (1896), which permitted state and private actors to engage in segregation. He also wrote dissents in major cases such as Pollock v. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. (1895), which struck down a federal income tax, United States v. E. C. Knight Co. (1895), which severely limited the power of the federal government to pursue antitrust actions, and Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey v. United States (1911), which established the rule of reason. He was the first Supreme Court justice to advocate the Incorporation of the Bill of Rights, and his majority opinion in Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. v. City of Chicago (1897) incorporated the Takings Clause. Harlan was largely forgotten in the decades after his death, but many scholars now consider him to be one of the greatest Supreme Court justices of his era.

Notes for Thomas Samuel Harlan:

Thomas Samuel was born at the home of his father. Thomas S. was a planter and farmer. The home place was said to have been named Glendower and sold by James White for Confederate money. It is still standing and is in use in Glendower, VA at this time (1954). The house is dark red brick with double colonial porches at each end. The records of the sale of the place were destroyed when the courthouse at Scottsville burned to the ground. At one time there were 1800 or more acres of land and they owned 300 slaves. I have heard my grandfather (written by Elizabeth Strickler) John Bailey say that his father and grandfather would never sell a slave unless at the slave's request. The case being that he wanted to marry a slave woman owed by someone else who would not sell her. I have heard my grandfather say that only about three slaves were willing to leave the family after the Civil War, but of course they no longer had the money to take care of them, as the money they had was Confederate. The place that they moved to after leaving Glendower was called Meadowbrook and burned to the ground leaving them nothing. I have heard John Bailey speak of being terribly hungry while playing with thousand dollar bills along with his brothers. He recalled along this time of there coming a day when there was nothing in the house to eat at all and of he and his brothers trying to eat some soap. The commissary later that day gave them the last small ration of meal that would be issued. The family of Thomas S. then moved to West Virginia (Bath County) where they resided until 1881 when they moved to Henry County, Kentucky on a farm between Ghent and Warsaw. In the latter years of his life he and his wife, Mary Fleming, lived at La Grange, Kentucky, in the house where his son Edgar Leslie Harlan later lived. His wife, Mary Fleming, was his first cousin once removed.

Thomas fought on the Confederate side in the Civil War. He enlisted in the C Company, 19th Infantry Regiment, Virginia on April 17, 1861 in Scottsville, VA

Obituary

Harlan. - Our beloved friend and neighbor, Thomas S. Harlan, lives today only in the hearts of friends, and indeed tenderly enshrined is he there. When worn and weary with life's afflictions, he laid down its burden to be clothed upon with immortality.

An exchange of a body full of disease for one glorified and immortal is a happy exchange, and enriches by far the receiver, and paints its lilies of hope on the tender, susceptible tablets of the hear, and is harmonious blending teacher Christ the sinners, the one who, with ransomed love, breaks the fetters of sin and gives immortal beauty and freedom to the spirit of man.

The subject of this sketch, loved and honored by all, first beheld the light of day in a palatial home in Albemarle county, Va., the day of his birth being July 21, 1829. He came of a family of noble ancestry, rocked in the luxury, the slave him and faithfully did his bidding. Reverses later in life overtook him, consequently acquainting him with more than one side of life. He served four years in the Civil War, and under the stars and stripes fought a valiant fight for the Confederacy,. He married to his surviving wife May 5, 195-, and nearly fifty years of connubial was their happy portion. There was born to them seven children - six sons and one daughter, the latter having died in infancy. There are left the faithful wife, the dutiful sons, and an affectionate sister, to mourn their loss. Bro. Harlan united with the Christian Church in Buckner, Ky., five years ago, and was baptized by Bro. W. T. Wells. While always a good man, strictly moral in his habits of life, yet since confessing Christ, he had been faithful and devoted to the church. He was a true husband, a noble brother and indulgent father, a typical neighbor, a faithful friend. God bless and direct the lingering feet in the way of righteousness, and the pearly gates at last to stand, and join hands and hearts as on unbroken family.

Notes for Thomas Samuel Harlan:

Thomas Samuel was born at the home of his father. Thomas S. was a planter and farmer. The home place was said to have been named Glendower and sold by James White for Confederate money. It is still standing and is in use in Glendower, VA at this time (1954). The house is dark red brick with double colonial porches at each end. The records of the sale of the place were destroyed when the courthouse at Scottsville burned to the ground. At one time there were 1800 or more acres of land and they owned 300 slaves. I have heard my grandfather (written by Elizabeth Strickler) John Bailey say that his father and grandfather would never sell a slave unless at the slave's request. The case being that he wanted to marry a slave woman owed by someone else who would not sell her. I have heard my grandfather say that only about three slaves were willing to leave the family after the Civil War, but of course they no longer had the money to take care of them, as the money they had was Confederate. The place that they moved to after leaving Glendower was called Meadowbrook and burned to the ground leaving them nothing. I have heard John Bailey speak of being terribly hungry while playing with thousand dollar bills along with his brothers. He recalled along this time of there coming a day when there was nothing in the house to eat at all and of he and his brothers trying to eat some soap. The commissary later that day gave them the last small ration of meal that would be issued. The family of Thomas S. then moved to West Virginia (Bath County) where they resided until 1881 when they moved to Henry County, Kentucky on a farm between Ghent and Warsaw. In the latter years of his life he and his wife, Mary Fleming, lived at La Grange, Kentucky, in the house where his son Edgar Leslie Harlan later lived. His wife, Mary Fleming, was his first cousin once removed.

Thomas fought on the Confederate side in the Civil War. He enlisted in the C Company, 19th Infantry Regiment, Virginia on April 17, 1861 in Scottsville, VA exchange, and enriches by far the receiver, and paints its lilies of hope on the tender, susceptible tablets of the hear, and is harmonious blending teacher Christ the sinners, the one who, with ransomed love, breaks the fetters of sin and gives immortal beauty and freedom to the spirit of man.

Obituary

Harlan. - Our beloved friend and neighbor, Thomas S. Harlan, lives today only in the hearts of friends, and indeed tenderly enshrined is he there. When worn and weary with life's afflictions, he laid down its burden to be clothed upon with immortality.

The subject of this sketch, loved and honored by all, first beheld the light of day in a palatial home in Albemarle county, Va., the day of his birth being July 21, 1829. He came of a family of noble ancestry, rocked in the luxury, the slave him and faithfully did his bidding. Reverses later in life overtook him, consequently acquainting him with more than one side of life. He served four years in the Civil War, and under the stars and stripes fought a valiant fight for the Confederacy,. He married to his surviving wife May 5, 195-, and nearly fifty years of connubial was their happy portion. There was born to them seven children - six sons and one daughter, the latter having died in infancy. There are left the faithful wife, the dutiful sons, and an affectionate sister, to morn their loss. Bro. Harlan united with the Christian Church in Buckner, Ky., five years ago, and was baptized by Bro. W. T. Wells. While always a good man, strictly moral in his habits of life, yet since confessing Christ, he had been faithful and devoted to the church. He was a true husband, a noble brother and indulgent father, a typical neighbor, a faithful friend. God bless and direct the lingering feet in the way of righteousness, and the pearly gates at last to stand, and join hands and hearts as on unbroken family.

Virginia and George Thompson were married in Virginia. He was a Confederate soldier who was wounded and taken into the home of James White Harlan to be nursed back to health. He fell in love with Tabby, as she was called, and they were married and went back to Tennessee. Later they moved to Kentucky where he died and is buried in Bowling Green, where they live in or around. When George Thompson died, Tabitha came to Anchorage, Kentucky to live with their daughter Katherine Thompson and her husband Ernest Corbin. When she died she was buried in the Valley of Rest at La Grange, Kentucky. The tombstone is no longer there, but she is in the same plot as Thomas Samuel Harlan.

The 1900 Warren Co., KY census indicates that Virginia had a total of 4 children, all of whom were living in 1900. In 1900 George and Virginia, along with their sons John and George, were living with their daughter, Virginia Dayton.

Notes for George Alexander Thompson:

The 1900 Warren Co., KY census lists George as being three years older than Virginia which would make him born about 1828. The date of Virginia's birth should here is probably correct since it came out of the Harlan family bible. That would mean that George was older than indicated in the 1900 census.

J. F. Harlan's Unusual Professions

Editor's Note: The following is a compilation of information from two biographical sketches written by John B. Harlan, subject of the story titled John Bailey Harlan was Shrewd Detective on page 8 of the Spring 2004 Harlan Record. Juanita Creighton, of Richmond, Henrico Co., VA, submitted the detective piece and the two sketches compiled here. John B. Harlan was the brother of her grandfather, Howard Hinton Harlan.

One of our Harlan cousins, James Forbes Harlan, had some unusual professions. His brother, L&N Railroad detective John B. Harlan, provided the following information.

Born in Albemarle County, VA, on July 12, 1851, James moved with his family shortly after the Civil War to Mountain Grove, Bath County, VA, where they resided in a cabin on property owned by Colonel A.C.L. Gatewood, of Confederate fame. The farm was situated at the fork of Little Back Creek and Big Back Creek.

Mountain Grove was a little scattering village consisting of a Post Office, Blacksmith and wheelwright shop, and a Manufacturing Mill belonging to old Colonel Gatewood borhter, John recalled. It was located with Warm Spring Mountain to the east and the Allegheny Mountains to the west. The little valley stretched up Big Back Creek perhaps eight or ten miles and ranged from two hundred and fifty feet to half a mile in width. In that section at that time, the mountains abounded with game, bear, deer, wolves, wild cats, panthers, catamount, wild turkey, pheasants, and, in fact all manner of game, and our chief occupation while in that section was hunting, trapping, and fishing.

In 1873 or 74, the family moved to Greenbrier County, crossing the Allegheny Mountains in ox carts. They lived for about a year on Captain William Reed's farm, about a mile and a half northwest of Frankfort. They then lived for three years on the Lewis Creigh farm, then moved to Monroe County, to a section known as Swopes Knobs in the mountains near Johnson's Cross Roads, about 15 miles from union. Later the family moved to Henry County, Ky.

During the years that James lived in Greenbrier and Monroe counties, he worked most of the time as a professional hacker of brush on the mountains near Cranberry Glades in Pocahontas County, according to his brother.

While so engaged he came in contact with a Professor of Music from Richmond, Henrico Co., VA, L.J. Whitt, who was also a Professor of Penmanship, John continued, and the two became very much interested in each other, and Professor Whitt induced Mr. Harlan to travel with him and give music lessons and also take lessons in penmanship from him. They traveled together for two years or more, making quite a success in their profession. After Professor Whitt had returned to Richmond from West Virginia, Mr. Harlan took up his profession of teaching penmanship as well as giving music lessons on banjo and violin, more especially on the banjo, James became well known by traveling around to the crossroads school houses and teaching music and penmanship.

James Harlan's first banjo was a large gourd strung with horse hair, made for him by his grandfather's servant, known as Uncle Lewis, who drove the family carriage.

After young Harlan got so he could strike a few tunes, there was a young lady in the neighborhood, Miss Mollie Clark, who took an interest in him, and being a good performer on the banjo herself, she taught him all the fundamental principles that she knew concerning banjo picking,

He was considered a very special entertainer according to his brother, who added, "Young Harlan was always ready to play for the old fashion dances or help entertain the youngsters in the several communities in which he lived, but never charged anything for this service. It was always rendered cheerfully. However, he made a nominal charge for lessons in penmanship and music."

The family moved to Henry County, Ky, near New Castle, in 1881. In Kentucky, James Harlan continued to teach music and penmanship for a number of years, teaching in Indiana, Ohio, Arkansas, and Tennessee as well.

Around 1915, he began to work for the railroad in Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. In 1927, the year John Harlan wrote his sketch, his brother was located in Covington, Ky., and had been working for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company for three years. He was planning to travel back to Virginia to participate in the Old Fiddler's Contest at Ronceverte.

James Forbes Harlan and Ida Lena Hancock had the following children:

702. i. WILLIAM EDGAR⁹ HARLAN (son of James Forbes Harlan and Ida Lena Hancock) was born on 14 Aug 1883 in Kentucky. He died on 12 Oct 1912 in Oklahoma. She died on 15 Apr 1956 in Jackson, Hinds Co., Mississippi, USA.

Notes for William Edgar Harlan:

Willie was murdered in Oklahoma. One of Willie's employees was arrested and jailed. Willie paid the employee's bail and fine and when the employee was informed that those funds would be withheld from his wages, he drew a pistol and killed Willie. [As told by Harry Trent Hutcheson, August 1998] William's tombstone gives his date of death as 1912. He was not buried in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Kentucky, until April 1913.

- i. MABEL¹⁰ HARLAN (daughter of Edgar Leslie Harlan and Margaret Beall Flood) was born on 11 May 1889 in New Castle, Henry Co., Kentucky. She died on 01 Feb 1902 in New Castle, Henry Co., Kentucky.

Notes for Mabel Harlan:

Mabel Harlan

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in our midst in years was that of Mabel Harlan, the fourteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harlan. She passed into the "better land" on Saturday, February 1, and the remains were buried next day in the New Castle Cemetery. During the summer she had typhoid fever, and a short while ago she had scarlet fever. Naturally these left her in an enfeebled condition, so that the after effects in connection with something like la grippe were more than her vital powers could stand. She was a very bright child, with an affectionate disposition, and it is greatly to be regretted that one so lovely should have a life so brief. It is well with the child beyond peradventure: and no doubt what seems to the family an irreparable loss will prove to be a blessing. The hallowed memories of her stay in the household will be an inspiration to higher aims in life and eternity.

Horace Edgar "Ed" Hill was born near Smithfield, Kentucky. He was born in what we used as the dining room in the house his father built. The house was built to by his father and his father's brother, Marshall Tyler Hill, known as Rip, before his father and mother were married. Ed was fifth generation to live and farm on that the land. The farm he grew up on was part of the original farm purchased by his great great grandmother, Clarissa (Holloway) Hill when she move to Henry County from Virginia after a short stop in Fayette County, Kentucky.

Horace Edgar was married first to Jane Pardo and had one son, Forest Weldon Hill. They divorced when Forest Weldon, known as Mickey, was very young. After his divorce, he married Betty Jean Washburn, from Carroll County, Kentucky, in 1952. Ed and Betty Jean married shortly after Ed's mother, Bernice (Harlan) Hill, died of the breast cancer. They had two children Horace Edgar Hill, Jr. and Bernice Hill Southworth. Three of his four grandchildren (Elizabeth Hill, Stephen Hill and Wesley Southworth) were born before his death. His forth grandchild, Hagan Southworth, was born less than a year after he died.

He farmed almost his entire life, except for a short period of time when he worked at the Bourbon Stockyards in Louisville, Kentucky during the late 1950's. He had a disagreement with his father, William Weldon Hill, concerning the sharing of income from the farm. Ultimately his father gave in and he returned to the farm. Later, with the agreement of his brother, Horace Edgar bought the farm from his father. In the meantime, he also bought another farm that adjoined his father's farm on the back.

Ed served as a magistrate in Henry County for many years. He won his first election after a recount of the votes. He spent most of his years as magistrate fighting to enact zoning laws in the county. He died while still in office and after zoning was passed.

Ed died at age 66 at Jewish Hospital in Louisville, Kentucky in 1990 during his second coronary bypass operation. His first coronary bypass was approximately 10 years earlier.

school. She took business courses and was a credit manager and bookkeeper in Norfolk and Richmond, Henrico Co., VA

Juanita Graham Creighton entered into the divine presence of the Lord on Wednesday morning November 11th. In her heavenly home Juanita is rejoicing in the company of so many of those Graham children we all knew and loved. She has been reunited with her dear father "Pappy" whose company she missed so much in recent days. She is also likely meeting the many ancestors whose lives she chronicled and celebrated.

Juanita Graham Creighton was born in Fairview, Virginia on February 5th, 1923 She was the 5th child of 13 born to Gerald Constant Graham and Ida Pearl Harlan.

She grew up in the mountains of north western Virginia near the famous resorts of the Homestead, Bath Alum and The Warm Spring's Inn. She lived in a house without running water, and learned to cook on a wood burning stove. She walked nearly 2 miles each day to attend a one room school house.

Juanita has fond memories of the farm she grew up on, and the little general store her father ran. This general store also served as a gas station for those early automobiles. Juanita helped hand pump gas into a glass ball to measure its purchase. Juanita lived through the Great Depression. She still remembers her father telling the family that the banks had gone under, and that they had lost all their money. They survived because there abiding faith in Gods provision even in hard times. The also had the blessing of the farm and each other. In the depression years; Juanita's father and her older brothers worked to cut wood in a saw mill they built on the property, they also sold wood and produce to Homestead in Hot Springs, Virginia.

Juanita graduated from Millboro Springs High School where she played on the girls' basketball team. An exceptional student, she boasted that she read every book in the library. After graduation she traveled with her older brothers as they sought work in Norfolk Virginia.

She later moved there and eventually brought sisters Connie, and Faye to this port city during World War 2. She went to work for a start-up company known as Radio Supply where she met W. D Jenkins (known to friends and family as Tommy Jenkins). The two moved to Richmond and made a new home there in the late 1940's. They would start a family in Richmond which included three children, Debbie, Tommy and Mark. They joined Grove Avenue Baptist Church where Juanita sang in the original TV choir for what become known as The Victory Hour television program.

Juanita and Tommy's home in Richmond soon became a center of family activity for Juanita's family. Her parents, siblings and their children would be right at home in Juanita's custom built house on Thom Road. The house itself was designed by Juanita and was the venue for wedding receptions and special family occasions. Juanita's marriage to Tommy ended in divorce in after a little more than 10 years of marriage.

Eventually she would meet a handsome and kind engineer working for Gould's pumps. They both worked in the same office building. A friendship became a romance and the romance became a happy marriage that lasted nearly 27 years.

Juanita was well known for her beauty and her sense of style. She ran a successful business as a wholesale distributor of cosmetics called Beauty Counselor. Juanita was self-educated at a college level in history and literature. She devoted over 4 decades of free time and energy to genealogical research which included trips to New England and overseas to England and Scotland.

He taught high school history in Norwalk, Connecticut, and in St. Petersburg, Florida, where he became principal of Northeast High School, assistant county superintendent, and a founder of the local educational TV station. Meanwhile, his talented fashionista, Barbara, owned a chain of six dress stores from St. Petersburg to Ft. Myers.

Having vacationed in the North Georgia hills, they fell in love with the area, left their careers, and moved to a farm near Mineral Bluff in 1968.

They devoted most of their time to raising vegetables, and tending cattle and sheep. As the farm wasn't enough to absorb their enormous energy, Barbara opened a craft and antique furniture store and promoted Appalachian folk artists, while Tom became a homebuilder. In a several-year span, he'd built more than 130 homes, served as justice of the peace, and took a leading role on the local hospital board, Chamber of Commerce, etc.

In the mid-1990s, because of ill health, they left North Georgia for Miami, where their son, John, and daughter-in-law Susan resided. Overnight, they went from farms, sheep and cows to a two-bedroom Miami Beach condo, inhabited entirely by Spanish-speakers.

In this new adventure, Barbara worked as a thrift store to benefit AIDs victims, and Tom volunteered at a local museum and the Miami New World Symphony. Their favorite pastime was horse-racing, and they were at the track two or three times a week. When Barbara died, in 2010, Tom moved for a year to Edenton, North Carolina, where John and Susan spent part of the year. But his fondness for North Georgia overtook him again, and he moved back to Mineral Bluff in 2010, where his daughter, Mel, and her husband, Lee, had lived for 20 years on part of the land he'd once owned with Barbara.

He spent his last years with them, and rented an apartment in Blue Ridge, until he moved to assisted living (Cameron Hall in Ellijay, a warm and loving environment where he spent his last two years before he died.

He will be missed and his passing is a huge loss to Blue Ridge and Fannin county.

His family would like to thank the staff at Cameron Hall of Ellijay for their many kindnesses, the members of the Cherry Log Christian Church, the staff at Cameron, and Hospice--for their loving care.
