

C. W. LaMaster, Farmer At Fisherville, Dies of Typhoid

Carl William LaMaster, 23, a farmer, died at 6 a.m. Sunday at his home on Sulphur Well Road, Fisherville, after a four-week illness of typhoid fever. He was the first person in the county this year to succumb to the disease.

Dr. J. R. Shacklette, Jefferson-town, who treated Mr. LaMaster, said he had been ill with the disease for about three weeks before he called the physician a week ago.

Called Only Case.

The doctor said Mr. LaMaster probably drank tainted water in a spring on one of the farms on which he worked, and added that recent heavy rains had washed considerable filth into rural springs. He said, however, it was the only such case in the neighborhood.

Survivors are Mr. LaMaster's mother, Mrs. Laura Frederick LaMaster; two brothers, Hugh LaMaster and Samuel LaMaster, and three sisters, Miss Lilly LaMaster, Miss Edith LaMaster and Miss Katie May LaMaster.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Myers' Chapel at Jefferson-town, and at 2:30 p.m. at Trinity Church of Christ. Burial will be in Bethlehem Cemetery.

U. S. Soldiers In Britain

NO ASPIRIN FASTER